Manufacturing in Alberta

Expansion of the manufacturing sector has long been an important part of Alberta's economic diversification policy. Over the past decade, the value of shipments, an indicator of manufacturing activity, has grown dramatically. Since 1978, when manufacturing shipments were $7.43 billion, values have increased by an annual average rate of 9.8 per cent. In 1988, the estimated value of shipments reached $18.3, a more than 10 per cent increase over the previous year.

Alberta has a number of distinct advantages as a manufacturing centre. The corporate tax rate is one of the lowest in Canada. Alberta attracts industry with a highly educated and trained labor force and an assured supply of competitively priced hydrocarbon and forestry resources. Factors such as these have enabled Alberta to increase its share of total Canadian manufacturing shipments from 5.7 per cent in 1978 to 6.4 per cent in 1988.

Export sales to international markets point to the importance of manufactured goods in Alberta's economy. In 1988, exports of manufactured goods reached $3.4 billion, about 25 per cent of Alberta's total international exports.

The Alberta government helps support private sector business efforts in foreign markets. Alberta Economic Development and Trade offers international marketing and trade development services in the province while representatives work from government offices located in Tokyo, Hong Kong, Los Angeles, Seoul, New York and London.

The growing importance of secondary industries is an encouraging trend. It marks a strong diversification of an economy traditionally based on primary industries and agriculture. Provincial government policy encourages manufacturing developments throughout Alberta to help broaden employment opportunities. It is anticipated that these government policies, in conjunction with the wealth and diversity of Alberta's human resources, will result in economic prosperity, growth, continued high levels of investment, and diversification of Alberta's manufacturing activities.

Petrochemicals and Plastics

Alberta's petrochemical industry is widely recognized as a major achievement in upgrading resources and economic diversification. More than $6 billion has been invested in the petrochemical industry and related facilities since the mid 1970s. The value of shipments has increased from $609 million in 1976 to more than $3.3 billion in 1988.

New investment activity in the downstream plastics industry has resulted in a much larger and diverse range of plastic products manufactured in Alberta. Over 25 new projects or expansions are planned for 1989, totalling $95 million of new investment.

Food and Beverage Industries

The food and beverage industry has traditionally been a leading manufacturing sector in Alberta. In 1988, total shipments reached nearly $5.0 billion.

Although the share of manufacturing shipments in this sector dropped to 27.0 per cent in 1988 from 32.6 per cent in 1978, the value of shipments more than doubled over the last 10 years. The smaller share was attributable to greater expansion in other industry groups.

Metal-Based Industries

The metal industries comprise three separate industry groupings. The two largest are the primary metal and metal fabricating industries, with 1988 manufacturing shipments reaching $1.12 billion and $956 million respectively. Machinery (excluding electrical machinery) is an important facet of Alberta's manufacturing output, accounting for $877 million in shipments. Together these industries totalled just under $3.0 billion in manufacturing shipments — a 16.1 per cent share of the Alberta total. From 1978 to 1988, growth in the metal-based industries was approximately 180 per cent.

Forest Products

The forest products industry, which has become one of Alberta's success stories, will account for more than $3.2 billion worth of new investment over the next three years. Roughly 10,000 new construction jobs will be created, and more than 4,000 direct operating jobs.

Industry shipments estimated at $1.4 billion in 1988, will more than triple over the next few years, making it one of the largest manufacturing industries in the province.

Other Manufacturing Industries

Shipments of non-metallic mineral products (primarily construction materials — concrete, concrete products, gypsum board, fibreglass insulation, etc.) amounted to $637 million in 1988 compared to $460 million in 1978. The value of shipments in printing, publishing, and allied industries totalled $735 million.

Other important manufacturing industries in Alberta include electronic products, telecommunications equipment, transportation equipment, clothing and fashion wear, and consumer products. Combined shipments in these industries totalled more than $1 billion in 1988.
